W. Knight, and the first edition appeared in 1857. It contained sixteen pages of letterpress, and thirteen small maps, viz., Sierra Leone, West Africa, Yoruba, Mediterranean, Bombay Presidency, Sindh and Punjab, North India, Tinnevelly, Travancore, Ceylon, China, New Zealand, Rupert's Land. A second, a third, and a fourth edition followed at intervals, each with corrections and improvements. The fifth edition, brought out by the late General Lake in 1873, was considerably enlarged, containing sixty pages of letterpress, and twenty-three maps, of which ten were new. No sooner, however, was that edition published, than General Lake began to collect materials for a future one, the articles in which should be entirely rewritten, and the whole produced on a much more complete scale. After his retirement from the Secretariat in 1876, he set vigorously to work, had the maps for the new edition printed, and wrote a large part of the letterpress. It pleased God, however, to take His devoted servant to Himself before the task on which his heart was set was completed. A memorandum was left among his Atlas papers, signed by himself on May 30th, 1877, exactly one week before his lamented death, in which he mentions that it had been his purpose, in the Preface, to thank several kind friends and others who had supplied him with information and helped him in various ways.
