I havent but one dress hanging there, but youve got a whole drawer in the bureau. I was not very awkward and clumsy in my belongings, but an elephant could scarcely have been more bewildered if he had been requested to lay his proboscis up in a glove box. I cannot put a dress in the drawer, I remarked. Oh, you can hang one up here under your cap; and that is all any of us do. Our things, all except our everyday things, go down stairs in our trunks. Have you many trunks I told her no, only one. I did not know why it was a little disagreeable to me to say that. The feeling came and passed. I hung up my coat and cap, and brushed my hair; my new companion looking on. Without any remark, however, she presently rushed off, and I was left alone. I began to appreciate that. I sat down on the side of my little bed; to my fancy the very chairs were appropriated; and looked at my new place in the world. Five of us in that room! I had always had the comfort of great space and ample conveniences about me; was it a luxury I Pg 214 had enjoyed It had seemed nothing more than a necessity. And now must I dress and undress myself before so many spectators could I not lock up anything that belonged to me were all my nice and particular habits to be crushed into one drawer and smothered on one or two clothespins Must everything I did be seen And,...
