Evn now the colt treads high with stately pace, And moves his pliant limbs with easy grace; Outstrips the rest; the first that dares to brave 1io The unknown bridge, or tempt the threatning wave: No sudden sounds alarm his foul with dread 5 Sublime his arched neck, and small his head: Short paunch, and breadth of back his might attest, And prominent with brawn his fearless breast. 115 Of colours chuse the dapple or the grey, For white and dun a dastard race betray. Lo! when the battles distant din he hears, Restless he paws; erects his eager ears; With generous fury glows his quivering frame, 120 And from his nostril bursts the fierce, collected flame. Oer his right shoulder his redundant mane Waves to the zephyr as lie ikims the plain. Thro his broad back shoots a divided spine, And arms with double force...
